DON'T MISS OUT THIS APRIL

There's a lot happening this April - whether it's our 144 Envelopes Fundraiser, Leadership Academy, our Breaking Barriers and Building Connections event, or the building excitement for spring and waiting for the OHV Trails to open and looking forward to things growing again!

Message from the Chamber

Chamber Members,

Change is in the air. For a few brief moments we all felt the warmth of spring weather and the excitement of a new season. As I sit here typing this, the spring warmth has fled and, in its place, a North Country blanket of white stares at me. My sense of excitement and renewal hasn't been dampened by this minor snowy inconvenience, it has left me dreaming and planning for my family's spring and early summer adventures.

As I think of all my family wants to do and accomplish, I look to our many local businesses to plan where to start. I was asked to write about a business I frequent and enjoy, but I realized after tracking all of the Chamber Members that I have come in contact with over the last two weeks, I simply couldn't choose one, or two or three. Even during business hours, I cannot concentrate on just one business as Lewis County has so many to offer. During the past two weeks, I suggested that my Summer Youth participants contact no less than 10 local businesses for internship opportunities. A quick shout out to Double Play, Lewis County Search and Rescue, and Lewis County Recreation, Forestry and Parks for being so easy to work with!

Even outside of business hours, my family tries our best to support local foods and purchase locally whenever we can. The recent warm weather meant grilling season was officially open and a quick trip to Millers for Chicken and Monnat's Country Store for Paulie's jerked pork were in order. To make our shopping trip complete, we had to purchase Black River Valley Chocolate milk for my kiddos and some butter for mom; each local product making our meal a locally sourced and tasty one to boot! We recently had family visiting and as always, our dinner conversations turn to food and shopping. Thank you to Jeb's Restaurant for a great meal and service and to Lowville Dairy Producers for always having all the snack options our visitors love {Croghan Bologna and Cheese Curd}. A trip to the Farmhouse Boutique and the West Martinsburg Mercantile netted us some local pottery, decorations, and laughter as "us girls" enjoyed our time together.

We are ended our time with family by planning for a visit to the Town Hall Theater when it opens; future trips to all of our favorite landscaping centers for flowers, shrubs & advice on how to save our split birch tree, and a trip to Sherwin Williams for help with paint colors to spruce up camp. Sitting around the table together, we generated too many to count camp logos, all with hopes that Mag's Creations can make our ideas a reality. Each idea and future plan makes us more excited for what Lewis County has to offer.

My family shops locally, we dream & plan for the future locally and we work locally. I am so incredibly blessed to be able to list just a few of the businesses my family frequents and supports each season in Lewis County. Why not start your new season in Lewis County?

Stay well,

Lisa Hetzner

Upcoming Leadership Academy Sessions

April 23rd
9am - 12pm

Leadership Self Awareness

Self-awareness isn't one truth. It's a delicate balance of two distinct, even competing, viewpoints - how you see yourself and awareness of how those around you see you.

"...leaders must actively work on both seeing themselves clearly and getting feedback to understand how others see them. The highly self-aware people... focused on balancing the scale."

What Self-Awareness Really Is (and How to Cultivate It) Tasha Eurich, Harvard Business Review

Let's explore this together - taking steps into the uncomfortable zone of being leaders who focus on building both internal and external self-awareness, who seek honest feedback from loving critics, and who ask what instead of why can learn to see themselves more clearly - and reap the many rewards that increased self-knowledge delivers.

May 21st
9am - 12pm

Economic Development & Small Business Entrepreneurship

INNOVATIVE. EMPOWERED. CONNECTED.

Join Lewis County small business owners & entrepreneurs in an engaging discussion on their personal experiences, best practices, successes and lessons learned.

99% of businesses in the United States are small businesses and the bulk of new jobs created can be directly attributed to small business owners. When small businesses are healthy and prosperous, the community-at-large benefits and prospers, too.

Rural communities rely on innovation from small business owners and entrepreneurs to transform communities. Rural small businesses have been found to generate wealth that stays in the community, build local leadership, and even contribute to population health.

$20 per session.

PROGRESS INDUSTRIES

PLEASE HELP US Raise the Roof!

We need to Raise the Roof – and we need YOUR help!

We're hosting a capital campaign to purchase a new roof at our Progress Industries building on Forest Ave. in Lowville. Our roof isn't equipped to handle many more north country winters, and repairs are no longer an option. The cost to replace a roof on a structure that size is significant, especially for a non-profit organization such as ours.

Why support this project?

Progress Industries provides employment opportunities and an inclusive working environment for people with developmental disabilities through contracted work with local and national companies. From this location, we ship products locally and internationally! Helping us helps keep people in our community working in safe, familiar surroundings.

We found a perfect match.

The Cloudsplitter Foundation has generously committed a matching grant of $25,000 in support of this project! That means we need to raise another $25,000 in our community. Give what you can. No contribution is too small.
